A goal of 200 was set for Medina County.

At a committee meeting Friday afternoon Miss Powrie discussed the various phases of Red Cross work, stressing the importance of local participation in establishing first aid stations on the trunk highways, in disasters, and in training laymen in first aid and life-saving.

Dr. W. H. Smith affirmed Miss Powrie's remarks by discussing Medina County's pressing need for a first aid station and suggested making Hondo the strategic point with the local hospital as the established base. He also suggested that training in first aid be given to those in Medina County who wish to study it, asserting that more harm than good is done by willing but uninformed laymen who attempt first aid, particularly in time of highway accidents.

Others were in accord with an extensive training program. Plans, however, are indefinite at this time.

The last disaster to visit this vicinity was the flood at D'Anis last

TO GROWERS OF FEED CROPS.

More than 250,000 car lots of surplus hay and other roughages have been listed to date with the Federal Livestock Feed Agency, according to C. M. Merritt, county agricultural agent. This is in excess of the 1934 figures which show the greatest listings for any month to be 162,000 car lots.

The Livestock Feed Agency reports that 27,000 of these car loads came from Texas.

The Agency points out that the winter livestock feeding program will soon get under way in most sections of the drought area. An effort is being made to keep the listing of roughages up to date so that inquiries for feed may be taken care of as rapidly as possible.

Medina County farmers having surplus feed which they want to dispose of in this way are requested to immediately advise the Livestock Agency at 755 Livestock Exchange Building, Kansas City, Missouri.

ST. PAUL'S LUTHERAN CHURCH.

"Why should I join and attend a Church?" Why should you not? "I can be just as good a Christian outside as in it." This is one reply that might be made. But the statement is not true to fact. The Lord Jesus left certain plain commands for believers. You must be a believer in Him to be a Christian. He said, "Ye are My friends, if ye do whatsoever I command you"; and "If ye love Me, keep My commandments". He has commanded us to hear and preach the Word, to administer the Sacraments.
There is only one efficient way to fulfill this Lord's will and that is in and by the organized Church. It is He who sent His Spirit and brought about the Christian Church. You cannot possibly go contrary to this divine plan and will and still be just as good a Christian as the person inside.
"Let us hold fast the profession of our faith without wavering . . . not forsaking the assembling of ourselves together, as the manner of some is;
but exhorting one another; and so much the more, as ye see the day approaching." Heb. 10, 23-25.

We are expecting visitors from two of our Charitable Institutions off Sunday, and for this reason will have Sunday school and at 10:30 German service. If these folk are here, part of the service will be in English. You are invited and urged ing at the Municipal Auditorium, San Antonio, next Sunday at 2:30 P. M.

Don't miss this fine opportunity. The QUIHI NOTES.

And in thy seed shall all the nations of the earth be blessed; because thou hast obeyed my voice, Gen. 22: 19.

Your little boat sailing away from the golden sunset leaves a long and glittering streak on the placid lake; so does the meteor, a falling star, while speeding through the celestial space in the night; and so does the kindly deed performed at an opportune hour. The bigger the boat, the meteor, the deed, the bigger the shiny path trailing after it, the path of blessing. And often that path becomes visible in the distant future.
Columbus was little conscious of the importance of his discovery, or Washington of the importance of his strategy and statesmanship; nor did Lincoln foresee the drastic sweep of his emancipation acts, as little as the Wright Bros. foresaw the impetus they gave to aeronautics while tinkering with their primitive air-planes.
Yet the blessings promised to Abraham were of a different type and character and range. Checking up on the fulfillment of the promise, we might say that his offspring, the Jews, became a blessing to all nations by ever holding sacred the family-ties, the national unity under judges and kings, the moral law, now embodied in every constitution of civilized people, holding sacred mono-theism, the faith in only one true God, sacred His fervent worship, tithes and sacrifices beyond comparison in spirit and interest, tiding them over every critical period of their history, etc. All important, all great blessings for them and others. Regardless of the Jews' present make-up and mix-up, having deserted the Scriptures for the Talmud (the insidious and cunning instructions of the rabbi), having drifted away from orthodoxy, their old-time religion, into the "reformed", often atheistic, state, mixing with shady finance and shrewd politics, forgetting their original mission, the blessings they were to bestow upon others, yet their former stand and history were not in vain; they were a blessing. The real blessing, however, we have not yet touched. What might it be?

Mr. Julius Brucks is at the hospital for some time, a very sick man. Let us remember him when speaking and pleading with our Lord.

A well-attended meeting was had with the Ladies' Aid. Thanks. In memory of Mrs. John Balzen and Mrs. O. F. (Anna) Neumann, former members, a short memorial service was held in their honor. In connection with a memorial wreath, a fair amount was assigned for charity and missions, from the treasury. The renovated covers for pulpit and altar were reported finished. A steering committee for our Social on the 29th was appointed, consisting of the Mesdames Otto Lindeburg, Geo. Balzen, Joe Horn, E. H. Hartmann, Arnold Balzen, L. Schweers, F. F. Mum-me and Edgar Balzen. Nothing will be left undone to make the social a success as far as the Aid is concerned. The entertainment feature was in the hands of Mesdames Otto Neumann, C. W. Grell and Geo. Balzen.
It was enjoyed by all.

The schedule of the great day, the social, has been completed by the general committee. The names of the various sub-committees are posted at the church door. See where your services are required. We know you will not deny them. Thanks in advance.

Room had to be made for a little newcomer in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bruno Schweers. 'Twas a baby boy, and joy reigns supreme. We join with our petitions for a blessed future.

Announcements: No services on the 11th; our synodical Sunday, and we worship at San Antonio; come

PRODUCE SHIPMENTS.

Corn shipments billed out of Hondo since our last report numbers 22 cars. Two of these were loaded at Dunlay.

The Bandera F. & R. Association has shipped one car of 30,000 pounds of mohair this week. It has two more cars requisitioned for further early shipments.

Other car lot shipments were for the week, one of hegari and one of cottonseed.

Cotton shipments for the week were 35 bales, bringing the season's total up to 310 bales. Ginner Clyde Holloway, who keeps a pretty close check on such matters, thinks this is about three-fifths of the crop for the season.

THURSDAY BRIDGE CLUB.

Mrs. O. B. Taylor was hostess to the Thursday Bridge Club last week.
High score prizes were won by Mrs.
T. B. Knopp for members and Mrs.
M. L. McDowell for guests. Mrs. R.
Noonan won second high for the club, and Mrs. J. G. Barry second high for guests. Those present included Mesdames T. B. Knopp, L. J.
Brucks, L. E. Heath, W. H. Smith, R. J. Noonan, Earl Starnes, Garland
Martin, E. J. Leinweber, John Finger,

ONE MAN WITH AN IDEA.

By Clayton Rand.

In almost every town there is at least one man with a good idea.
And so often the rest of the people, many of whom could not generate an idea if the life of the community depended upon it, are prone to talk down the fellow who has one.

It may be envy in their craws or just low-down cussedness, but whatever it is it is the evil spirit that holds down some towns and makes dumps out of others.

A man in your town with a real idea for the community is worth his weight in gold—snuggle up to him.

Hon. Joe W. Caldwell has our thanks for copies of the House Journal. Mr. Caldwell was the author —and successfully fought for its adoption over a very adroit opposition—of a resolution to investigate charges of a Communistic propaganda mill at the State University.

It pays to keep one's head in times of political agitation. You never know what kind of associates the next turn of the wheel of political fortune will bring you. Eight years ago the editor of this paper was for Al Smith in opposition to some of his best friends who were for Hoover.
Four years ago he was still for Al Smith—if he couldn't get his personal friend Garner—and you all know what happened! This year sees Al Smith, Herbert Hoover and Wm.
Randolph Hearst united in opposition to President Roosevelt! Who could have thought it? With all his faults, the editor of this paper is—still for Al Smith! Oh, the mistakes of the past eight years!

The managing editor of this paper had the distinguished honor Friday of last week of receiving an all too brief call from three very distinguished gentlemen. They were: George W. Slingsworth, Washington correspondent of the Houston Post and President of the National Press Club; Robert M. Jackson, Secretary to Senator Tom Connally; and Lyndon B.
Johnson, State Director, National Youth Administration, Littlefield Bldg., Austin, Texas. These gentlemen had been over to Uvalde for a "laying on of hands" by that venerable exponent of "Jacksonian" Democracy, Vice-President John N. Garner, and very naturally being curious to see another of the same now rare "Jacksonian" species they stopped for a look-in at our "hermitage".

TAXES MORE THAN WAGES.

What effect have taxes on the welfare of the workingman and the person who has saved and invested a few dollars? An answer to that oft-asked question is found in some statistics recently released by the National Association of Manufacturers.

A survey of 694 representative companies in the 25 leading industries produced the astounding fact that every time these enterprises pay out a dollar for wages they likewise pay out $1.34 in taxes.

And every time they pay out a dollar in dividends, they pay $1.42 in taxes.

In other words, if these companies were tax-free, they could more than double their wage and dividend payments.

No private industry can be tax-free —it costs money to pay for legiti-mate governmental functions. But when any unit of government unnecessarily expands its activities, the financial burden falls on every man who labors and every person who has saved. It hampers industry, delays progress and is a barrier to the employment of more labor. Excessive taxation is the worst enemy of prosperity.

It is most discouraging for any business to pay more in taxes than it does in wages and dividends. Think that over next time you wonder why you don't get better dividends a raise in salary—or a job.—Industrial

Bleakley and Lehman to Fight for New York Governorship —Communist Candidate Browder Jailed in Terre Haute—France Devalues the Franc.

By EDWARD W. PICKARD © Western Newspaper Union.

REPUBLICANS and Democrats of New York state met in convention at Albany and Syracuse respectively, selected their state tickets and started on a hot campaign. The Republicans entered the fight under a new leader for they named William F. Bleakley of Yonkers, supreme court justice, for the governorship. The fifty-two-year-old jurist prepared to resign from the bench and take command at once.

Col. Ralph K. Robertson of Buffalo was nominated for lieutenant governor, Nathan D. Perlman of New York city for attorney general and John A. May, Gloversville, for comptroller.

The convention at its evening session heard Col. Frank Knox, Republican vice presidential candidate, in a strong attack on the New Deal.

The Democrats re-nominated Gov. Herbert H. Lehman, and his candidacy was warmly espoused by President Roosevelt, who went to Syracuse to deliver his first speech as an avowed candidate. The President took occasion to deny again that he seeks Communist support and alleged that issue was a "red herring" dragged across the trail by his opponents.

FRANK KNOX, President Roosevelt and Al Smith, all on the air the same evening, provided a political feast for radio listeners. Colonel Knox, speaking at Pittsburgh, reiterated and substantiated his former assertion that New Deal financial policies were imperiling savings accounts and insurance policies. Mr. Roosevelt, not so eloquent as usual, defended the spending policies of his administration. He, too, spoke at Pittsburgh. The high spot of the evening came at the close of Al Smith's address to a women's organization in New York city. He had been treating of the New Deal and its leaders with biting sarcasm and wound up with the dramatic declaration:

"I firmly believe that the remedy for all the ills that we are suffering from today is the election of Alfred M. Landon."

Whereupon arose a shout that literally echoed throughout the land.

EARL BROWDER, Communist party nominee for the Presidency, achieved the distinction of being the first Presidential candidate to be jailed since Eugene V. Debs was incarcerated during the World war. Browder was scheduled to make a campaign address over the radio from Terre Haute, Ind., but when he arrived in that city he was nabbed by Chief of Police James C. Yates and put in the hoosegow on charges of vagrancy and "for investigation." Held with him were Seymour Walden and Waldo Frank, both of New York City; Charles Stadfeldt, secretary of the Indiana Communist party, and Andrew Remes of Indianapolis. All were released the next day.

Chief Yates, who had the backing of Mayor Samuel O. Beecher and the Terre Haute Merchants' association, said neither Browder "nor any other Communist" would be permitted to air their party doctrines over the local radio station; but David J. Bental of Chicago, Browder's attorney, slipped into the broadcasting booth and delivered the speech his principal had prepared while Yates fumed outside the locked door.

JUST as the maritime unions on the Pacific coast were about to go on a strike that would have tied up the great shipping industry, the trouble was averted by the signing of a fifteen-day truce between the employers and the workers and the nominal extension for sixty days of working contracts negotiated after the strike of 1934.

The truce provides that maritime unions at the expiration of the period, October 15, would either agree to arbitration of issues involving wages and hours which are not settled, or relations with employers would be broken completely.

The negotiations, handled principally by the Department of Labor's ace trouble-shooter, Edward F. McGrady, will continue during the fifteen-day period of peace.

IN WHAT was said by court attaches to be the first important ruling anywhere on numerous suits filed by packing companies and others against government collection of the "windfall" tax, Judge Robert C. Baltzell of the United States district court at Indianapolis, overruled the government's motion to dismiss a suit for an injunction filed by Kingan and Company, meat packers.

The company seeks to enjoin federal government officials from collecting a $2,500,000 "windfall" tax, levied in the revenue act of 1936, to recover processing taxes previously assessed under the AAA but later ruled invalid by the supreme court.

Judge Baltzell said that he found various "unusual circumstances" creating a doubt as to the possibility of the packing company's having adequate remedy at law in some other court. Because of this, he said, it is imperative for his court to grant the packing company the right to sue in federal court. The decision is said to be directing but not controlling in other similar cases in the district.

Dismissal of the injunction suit was sought by the government on the ground there is no authority in law for restraining collection of a tax.

APPEALS filed by the national labor relations board offer the Supreme court five new opportunities to pass on the constitutionality of the Wagner labor relations court. The board asked the high tribunal to review rulings in a case involving the Jones & Laughlin Steel corporation of Pittsburgh, two involving the Freuhauf Trailer company of Canton, Ohio, and two affecting the Friedman-Harry Marks Clothing company, New York. The labor relations board lost all five cases in lower courts.

FRANCE at last came to the conclusion that it could no longer support the franc and Premier Leon Blum's government decided to abandon the gold standard and devalue the franc to between 4½ and 5 cents. The Netherlands, Latvia and Switzerland immediately determined to follow suit. To save the world from a currency war, the United States, Great Britain and France entered into a "gentlemen's agreement."

The exact nature of this agreement was not revealed, but the United States promised to employ its $2,000,000,000 stabilization fund to head off the feared struggle. Certain it is that each of the three nations reserves the right to depart from the pact if and when its own interests require such a course. An expected outcome of the new general dropping of the gold standard may be an international conference for stabilization of world currencies. This might be held in Washington.

Blum called a special session of the French parliament to pass the necessary legislation, and his plan was given grudging approval by the finance committee of the chamber of deputies. Its adoption by the chamber, where the "popular front" has a big majority, was easy, but a fight developed in the senate.

The dangerous political situation ended when the senate passed a substitute measure to revalue the French currency but denied the government's original request for full power to control price rises. The government approved the substitute bill, withdrawing its opposition to senate objections to particular clauses in the original measure.

The price-fixing problem was solved in this way: After devaluation, the government may be given the right to control prices for six months by issuing decrees. These decrees, however, must be submitted to the national economic council for ratification.

From the Chicago Journal of Commerce is taken this plain statement as to what France's action means to the ordinary American citizen:

"Reducing the amount of gold represented by one franc will mean that the average American will be able to travel cheaper in France than for the last two years. French wines should be cheaper in this country and women should be able to buy French perfume for less. That should be true of nearly everything else that France exports to the United States—unless this country hikes the tariff on French exports or French prices boom out of proportion to devaluation. Indirectly, franc devaluation may keep Americans from war as the act may be a wedge for currency stabilization the world over and more brotherly relations between all nations. But don't lose any sleep over it unless you are getting an income from someone in France. In that case, since it will take more francs to buy dollars, your income will be cut. Everyone should have an interest in developing sound foreign trade and if franc devaluation starts the ball rolling in the right direction the eventual hope for development is free foreign exchange movements. It's necessary for one country's money to be negotiable in all capitals of the world if trade is to flow freely. That's the big goal."

THE government wound up its affairs for the first quarter of the 1937 fiscal year with a deficit of about $530,000,000 compared with a deficit of more than $880,000,000 for the same period last year.

Receipts in the July 1-Sept. 23 period were $1,119,196,888, compared with $986,888,265 last year, while expenditures were $1,635,909,816, against $1,815,219,471. General expenditures were $1,047,514,060 this year, compared with $939,977,775 last. Recovery and relief expenditures amounted to $588,395,755, compared with $875,241,695.

Income tax collections for September will amount to about $237,000,000, against $231,000,000 last year, and for the first quarter of this year approximately $358,000,000, compared with $278,000,000. Miscellaneous internal revenue netted the government $617,307,743 in the July 1-September 23 period, as compared with $517,936,451 last year.

The public debt at the end of the month stood at $33,831,790,000, compared with $29,423,624,000 on the same date last year.

GEN. FRANCISCO FRANCO'S furious Spanish Fascists reached the ancient city of Toledo and drove out the government troops with shell and bayonet. The rebels fought their way through strong defense and as they reached the center of the city there was a great shout from the Alcazar. Out of that battered citadel rushed the ragged, battered and half-starved cadets who had withstood a terrific siege for almost ten weeks. This heroic garrison joined the insurgents in charging the defenders and finally the Socialist troops scattered and fled southward over the Tagus river. Their way to Madrid was blocked by Franco's columns.

Fascist bombing planes made several destructive raids on Bilbao, killing a large number of the citizens, smashing innumerable buildings and damaging two warships in the harbor. The enraged government sympathizers demanded that Fascist hostages held in the city be executed in reprisal, and finally a mob of anarchist amazons swarmed aboard a vessel on which many hostages were kept and brutally slaughtered 210 of them after putting them to the torture. The savage women were on their way to a prison to kill 60 woman hostages when they were dispersed by civil guards.

That the Spanish government realizes its precarious situation is evidenced by its proclamation ordering Madrid to prepare for a siege, followed by a manifesto calling on everyone, women as well as men, to rally to the defense of the capital.

POLAND'S government began the confiscation of the lands of the nobility and large estate holders by seizing 60,000 acres from tax indebted properties. The land will be divided among the peasantry. This is the first step in carrying out a radical project that has been shelved for ten years.

Jules Poniatowski, minister of agriculture, had a hard fight before the president and cabinet indorsed the decree. Much pressure was brought to bear on the government and confiscations were reduced almost 50 per cent from the amounts suggested by the minister.

More than one-third of the sequestered land is in east Galicia, the remainder in the east and south of Poland.

SHANGHAI dispatches say the Chinese government has rejected the latest demands of Japan and countered with a list of demands of its own that include recovery of Manchukuo and a halt to increases of Japanese troops in North China. Negotiations between Japanese Ambassador Shigeru Kawagoe and Chinese Foreign Minister Chang Chun were at a standstill. The Nanking government through its embassies informed all the powers of the seriousness of the situation and the probability of international complications unless Japan was checked.

HIGH ranking officers of the navy and army and many federal officials were present at the funeral of Rear Admiral William S. Sims in Washington and his interment with full military honors in Arlington national cemetery. The war time commander of America's navy forces in European waters died suddenly in Boston of a heart attack. During his long years of service he was a severe critic of naval matters, and he was given credit for developing gunnery in the navy to a high point of excellence.

MAJ. GEN. FRANK PARKER, who won fame for his distinguished service in the World war, has retired after forty-six years in the army and becomes vice president and general manager of a Chicago chain of department stores. General Parker was graduated from West Point, served through the Spanish-American war and was commander of the First division of the A. E. F. in the World war. He was cited twice for gallantry in action, was awarded the distinguished service medal and was promoted to the rank of major general. Since the war he has commanded two of the four tactical armies of the United States.

Texas Exposition 150 Per Cent Over Original Size Plan

Chrysler Contract Puts Dallas World's Fair on Top in Motor Exhibits

DALLAS, Texas—The Texas Centennial Exposition today turned the home stretch toward its June 6 opening, two and one-half times larger than its sponsors originally anticipated.

From $10,000,000 value, estimated when the project was begun, the first World's Fair of the Southwest has grown into a $25,000,000 affair. The steel framework of its construction jobs stretching down mile after mile of parallel courses.

New Building Ordered

With the signing of the Chrysler Motor Corporation for a huge display space the Exposition boasts the largest motor exhibit ever shown at a World's Fair.

Originally the $400,000 Hall of Transportation was intended to house exhibits of both transportation and petroleum industries.

So large was the space taken by Chrysler, however, that Exposition officials were forced to hurriedly redesign their plans and build a separate Hall of Petroleum.

Ford with its own building, General Motors, with a huge, air-conditioned auditorium where changing shows of radio and stage stars will be presented in one week engagements throughout the June 6-Nov. 29 Exposition period, and Chrysler with an elaborate participation in the making, will give Dallas a record-breaking representation of the motor industry.

Livestock Also Featured

Further, the big fair will boast the largest livestock show ever assembled.

Other exhibits keep the pace, with the city display space at a premium and officials assured of an exhibit "sell-out" long before the opening day.

City of Dallas, the State of Texas and the Federal government are keeping step with their important Exposition building programs.

W. A. Webb, general manager of the Exposition who holds an international reputation for his railroad construction work, has announced every building will be completed by the June 6 opening date.

The spirit of the Old West will be recreated at every turn.

In a city as metropolitan as any in the nation, the frontier days will live again.

Ten-Gallon Hats Epidemic

Ten-gallon hats are blooming on every corner. Service stations are garbing their attendants in the cowpuncher's regalia. Department stores are clothing their elevator girls in cowgirl uniforms similar to those of Exposition Rangerettes. Other stores are donating the big hats to their employees with instructions to wear them on all occasions.

Even the Exposition police will be in full Old West attire.

The Texas Rangers will have a camp on the Exposition Race Track, with a replica of an old Ranger bunkhouse as their headquarters.

Not a single detail has been overlooked by the Exposition chiefs in their efforts to make the Southwest's World's Fair the most colorful in history.

Canadian

Texas Centennial Exposition officials originally intended to have 48 Rangerettes on hostess duty when the $25,000,000 World's Fair opens in Dallas June 6. When they found one of those selected came from Washington, D. C., they included Mexico to make an even 50. Now, not to overlook Canada, they have appointed Grace Louise Bailey, daughter of a Dallas publisher and born in Ojibwa, Ontario, near Windsor, making a total of 51.

Washington Digest

National Topics Interpreted
by William Bruckart
National Press Building Washington, D. C.

Washington.—Mr. Secretary Morgenthau lately has gone into the money market to borrow approximately one billion dollars. He asked the banks and other people having idle money to purchase four hundred millions in new government bonds and at the same time asked them to extend loans totalling about $550,000,000 that matured on September 15. The maturing securities, of course, do not take new money out of the money market, but it is borrowing just the same despite the technical name of refunding.

We Borrow a Billion

The Treasury's action in borrowing such a huge sum at this time came as a surprise. To many financial authorities, in fact to most of them, there was no need for borrowing additional funds at this time. It was a circumstance in which, as far as most observers could see, the Treasury had idle money in sufficient amount to meet the needs for the next several months.

Aside from the fact that the Secretary's action results in an increase in the public debt by the amount of new money borrowed, it is a matter deserving more than passing attention—much more attention than Treasury borrowings heretofore. The reason is that the administration is again piling up in the Treasury a huge amount of idle funds. As nearly as I can calculate the results of the September borrowings, the Treasury will be left with a mere $1,700,000 in unused cash. Of course, to the Roosevelt administration which has dealt only in billions, this sum may not appear important. Mr. Morgenthau said it was necessary to have these funds available because of "unsettled conditions" abroad. But that answer, to me, does not suffice.

I recognize that most people find little interest in discussing Treasury financial policies. I know from the type of letters that I get from those who do me the honor to read these reports that the subject of Treasury finance seems far removed from anything in which they can possibly have an interest. But notwithstanding those facts, I feel the matter should be discussed in every section of the country because it directly touches every taxpayer; and that is of vital importance.

Here is how it affects the taxpayer and when I refer to the taxpayer I refer to every individual in this country, because all of us are paying taxes either directly or indirectly. When the Treasury arranges a cash balance, it provides funds upon which the various government agencies may draw in accordance with congressional appropriations. To that extent it is like money you deposit in a bank. But otherwise it is quite different. The cash balance in the Treasury lies idle. It brings no return, no profit to anybody.

But it is important to remember that there are only two ways in which the Treasury can get money for this cash balance, namely, by borrowing or by taxing you and me. During the Roosevelt administration the Treasury has borrowed about $2.12 for every dollar it has collected in taxes. The result is a gigantic public debt.

There is another result, however, that is not as apparent to individuals. Since the Treasury is borrowing money it has to pay interest on what it borrows. You and I are paying this interest in the form of additional taxes. So, therefore, not alone are we being taxed for the money that is spent and which must be repaid, but we are being taxed to pay the interest on idle funds.

Mr. Morgenthau's reference to unsettled conditions abroad directs attention to what is happening in Europe and Asia and the link that exists between those conditions and our own.

President Roosevelt lately has said on several occasions that he did not like to be away from Washington more than four or five days at a time because of those unsettled conditions. Every one knows that our foreign friends are rearming. I believe every one realizes as well, however, that each of those foreign nations is in a position where it cannot initiate hostilities. At least, each one is in a position where very great provocation must occur before it can justify the starting of a war in the eyes of nations like our own.

Any one who wishes to examine those unsettled conditions will find at the very bottom two types of propaganda. One comes from Russia, the other from Germany. The two types of propagandists, while violently hating each other, are preaching exactly the same sort of thing. They are telling the world that if the world wants peace it must align itself with one or the other of the two schools of thought, depending upon which type of propaganda you read. With circumstances like that going on abroad, it seems to me that we as Americans ought to realize fully—and ought to defend—the type of government that we have. Neither Stalin nor Hitler preaches our type of economic thought. In view of that Americans surely ought to tighten their girdle and take a definite stand for the preservation of our traditions, our practices, because it is under those traditions and practices that our nation has grown great.

I have been a little bit disappointed that Mr. Roosevelt appointed Mr. Secretary Morgenthau to the Treasury.

American Doctrine
The department has not preached the American doctrine at more length. I am sure pronouncements by the administration in condemnation of communism would find a hearty response at the hands of the American people.

It is to be recognized that changes take place in world economic and political thought. They are taking place in our country. They are coming. But I condemn the practices of communism as a doctrine because they have ruined the lives of all excepting a few people in every nation where those policies are operative. They will destroy the independence of thought and action, the happiness, that we have come to know in this country as a natural right.

In negotiations with foreign powers, Mr. Roosevelt has not been fortunate. I think it is generally agreed among observers that the President fumbled the ball when he failed to take advantage of the splendid opportunity to deal with France and Great Britain when he first became President. Likewise I know there are many students who are convinced that the President by his own acts broke up the London economic conference in the summer of 1933 and with the collapse of that London meeting any hope for an early recovery from the depression on a world basis.

The war debts question still hangs in mid air. The recognition of Russia I am convinced turned out to be a fizzle. The far eastern program, if there was a program, has yielded nothing because it must be said in truth we have not cemented our friendship with Japan.

Within the last few days we have seen the collapse of the French franc. We have seen the President join with Great Britain in co-operating with the French in their difficulty. Yet, it is apparent to anyone who will review the financial and economic history of the last three years that the French have made a great effort to remain on the gold standard—yet they had no help from us until they could no longer stand the strain.

It is always easier to use hindsight than foresight. It is easier as well to call attention to mistakes three years after those mistakes have been made than to take a bold stand when the errors were first discussed. These facts, however, do not in any way lighten the responsibility that was ours as a nation in 1933.

I refer again to the London economic conference and the events prior to it in 1933. There were plenty of men in the United States at that time who said openly that the United States should move quickly and take leadership in world stabilization of currencies. It appeared for a time that President Roosevelt would take that action, but instead he is charged with having broken up the London conference because he failed to assume that leadership which he could have had.

That brings us to the link between the United States and the conditions of Europe. Mr. Roosevelt, through Secretary Morgenthau, says now that the United States will stand with Great Britain in helping the French. The question naturally arises why did not the United States stand with France in 1933 when France and a half dozen other European nations wanted to remain on the gold standard for its currency?

Personally, I have never seen any reason why the United States should have devalued its dollar as was done. If we had not devalued, the thing is quite certain: Maintenance of the gold standard by the United States would have continued to strengthen the currency of those countries in Europe, including France, that desired to continue that currency basis.

I have heard it said as well that if the United States had remained on the gold standard instead of devaluing its dollar, Great Britain would have been able soon to have restored her currency to a gold basis. Certainly, the British could not have remained off of gold as long as they have if gold coin were allowed to circulate in the United States. I believe no one can forecast at this time exactly what the results of the French devaluation will be.

Honeymoon Mountain

a huge noisy whirling place, and she had lived always in the quiet and peace of the mountains. Still, it was only a matter of a trip to San Francisco; because, once there, she could go directly to the hotel Grandmother knew about, the hotel at which they had stayed years ago; and from the hotel she could go to Mr. Holworthy's office where Stuart would meet her. Stuart was a Graham, and a gentleman, and as soon as she met him her troubles would be over, for he would tell her everything she needed to know.

This was what Grandmother said, and outwardly Deborah assented; but to her he was really a man and a stranger, and in her heart was a deadly terror of marriage and whatever it might mean, of meeting this strange man and being with him, being alone with him.

There was nothing to be done. She had to go. She had to be married. They were in such trouble about money, she and Gary, that there was scarcely enough to buy her ticket to San Francisco, and when it came to her costume for the journey the problem was dreadful. Grandmother had forgotten about clothes for years. She was horrified when they came to contemplate Deborah's wardrobe. She wanted to write immediately to Boston and have a large selection of articles sent out, but Deborah convinced her that there was no time, and that they would have to manage with what was in the house. So they made a traveling costume from one of Grandmother's. It was quiet and reserved, although perhaps the lines were not such as a professional dressmaker would have put into it. It would serve.

The dress was made of brown cloth, very neat and plain. A hat was rather a problem, but they evolved one finally, a neat small black turban with a modest cluster of velvet pansies on one side. Grandmother said the hat was perhaps a little old-fashioned, but she said that Deborah was far too pretty to travel alone dressed too attractively. She cried when she said it, and warned Deborah again of the danger of speaking to strangers.

Grandmother sent only one other dress with Deborah; her own wedding dress. When they tried it on, it fitted perfectly. Deborah looked at herself in the glass, and then quickly back at Grandmother, with dark startled eyes.

"It's . . . it's . . ." she touched the neck.

"It is for your husband, my darling," Grandmother said gently, and Deborah's blood was cold again in her veins.

CHAPTER II

Tubby had finally finished dressing, and now, after a hurried trip across the city in Bryn's roadster, they stood waiting in the big parlor of one of the old and eminently respectable hotels. Age had not added to its prestige; it had gained nothing, through the passage of years, save a few extra layers of dust in the interiors of the sagging red plush chairs, a few more cracks in the elaborately frescoed plaster walls, a few more worn places in the thin carpet. Tubby, hands in pockets, stared unseeingly at the candle sconces on the wall, fitted now with weary electric bulbs which gave out barely enough light to disclose the dangling crystal ornaments on the sconces themselves.

The grandfather clock in the corner ticked slowly.

"You're crazy," Bryn murmured, and took out his watch.

"Me?" Tubby asked in amazement and sat down in a comfortable chair.

"The clock. It's slow. My watch says ten minutes to nine."

"Oh. So you were talking to the clock?"

"Merely a slip."

"Slip is right," Tubby muttered.

"Talking to clocks!" Tubby went so

"There isn't Any Reason Why I Should Do It."

far as to say that if Bryn, at the age of six, had not fallen upon him violently one day as they rolled off a roof together, he would not have bitten the end of his tongue and so begun a lip which would endure to his dying day.

"Thlip it's right," Bryn repeated absently to himself. "Talking to clockth."

"Go to hell," Tubby said bitterly. He folded his hands before him.

"Bryn," Tubby said abruptly, and stopped.

"Tubby," Bryn answered politely.

"Bryn, what are you doing it for?"

"There isn't any reason why I shouldn't do it."

"Well," Tubby exploded, "you're not getting anything out of it. That's what I mean. You're getting into an awful mix-up with all kinds of possible consequences, and you're not getting anything out of it."

"Consequences?"

Tubby still sat in the big chair and considered, his blue eyes on Bryn's gray ones. "Pillar, for one. You'd make a very nice couple. That is . . ."

"Pillar would make a nice couple with anybody. And we've settled about her, so don't go back over that again, Tubby. Only there's a suggestion I'd like to make. If I were you I wouldn't rush over to Pillar's tonight right after the ceremony, because if you were to get down on your knees in my pants there would certainly be a catastrophe."

He stopped in front of the grandfather clock and gazed earnestly into its dingy face until Tubby had stopped making his spluttering noises. There was another long silence. Seven minutes to nine.

"What about this sailor, this Graham fellow?" Tubby demanded abruptly. "Do you think he's going to let any man crack him in the jaw and then marry his girl without doing anything about it? What about him?"

"Oh, he's all right," Bryn said lazily. "His enlisted time doesn't expire for two months. And he isn't much to worry over, anyway."

"Oh, Lord," Tubby said prayerfully, and put his head in his hands. Bryn went over and sat down beside him. He tweaked the yellow lock. "The whole trouble with you, Tubby, is that you're one of these sermons-in-stones people. I mean, you can't help looking for trouble. Why can't you take a thing at its face value and stop worrying? All that's happening is that I'm lending my name and my charming personality . . . because I have to win over the grandmother, too, perhaps I forgot to mention it . . . for a year. What's a year? The last pair of elephant tusks I brought home cost me a year, and I've been sick of the darn things for a long time. After all, an elephant tusk is not exactly a thing a man wants to look at more than two or three times a day, and it isn't a thing you ever get really fond of and like to cherish, you know."

Tubby raised his head. "Oh," he said unthinkingly. "So you're planning to cherish this Deborah woman and get fond of her, are you? Now that I understand why you're marrying her, do you mind telling me why she is marrying you? It doesn't work both ways, you know. It couldn't be, even if it's what I'm beginning to think it might be."

"But I told you why she's marrying me," Bryn said kindly. "I really explained it very nicely. She's marrying me to get a million dollars, one and now, after a hurried trip across the city in Bryn's roadster, they stood waiting in the big parlor of one of the old and eminently respectable hotels. Age had not added to its prestige; it had gained nothing, through the passage of years, save a few extra layers of dust in the interiors of the sagging red plush chairs, a few more cracks in the elaborately frescoed plaster walls, a few more worn places in the thin carpet. Tubby, hands in pockets, stared unseeingly at the candle sconces on the wall, fitted now with weary electric bulbs which gave out barely enough light to disclose the dangling crystal ornaments on the sconces themselves."

"Oh, no, she isn't," Tubby contradicted.

"Isn't she?"

Tubby straightened. He put his hand on Bryn's arm. "Look here, Bryn," he said, "what's the use of your trying to hold out on me? Why don't you come across with the whole story? I know what it is, anyway. It's another of those crazy quixotic notions of yours. What are you trying to put over now?"

SWIMMING HAZARDS SHOULD BE HEEDED.

In Texas, during 1935, there were 371 deaths from accidental drowning, according to records in the State Bureau of Vital Statistics. This is an increase of 54 over the number reported for the year 1934, and an increase of 85 over the number reported for 1933.

"While water sports are the greatest of all sports during the summer season, they present certain hazards which should be heeded," said Dr. John W. Brown, State Health Officer. "Accidental drowning would not occur if each individual respected the fact that water is not man's natural element, and governed his activities in the water by standards of safety. 'Certain precautions should be taken by all swimmers:

1. Never swim alone—especially in deserted places where no rescue is available in case of an emergency.

2. Do not let young children go out in deep water even if they know how to swim, unless some older person proficient in life saving, is with them.

3. Do not go in bathing directly after eating. Wait two hours before taking the plunge.

4. Do not dive in unfamiliar places until you are sure of the depth of the water and the absence of rocks.

5. Do not overtax your strength—work up gradually to a long swim by strengthening the muscles first.

6. Do not swim when fatigued.

7. Do not create a hazard for other swimmers by childish pranks and smart tricks.

"Accidental drownings, with few exceptions, occur through lack of proper safeguards or in places without adequate supervision. Take your swim in one of the approved sanitary swimming pools now available in most communities, and help reduce the deaths in Texas from drowning."

Pasture land mowed for the first time in 1935 and cleared of small brush has more than trebled its carrying capacity on the R. H. Carr farm near Angleton in Brazoria county, according to J. H. Sandlin, county agricultural agent. In March 1936, Carr had to double the number of head of stock in the pasture in order to get the grasses and clover grazed down satisfactorily, and again in May another group of cows was moved in on the pasture. Now the total number of stock carried in the pasture is more than three times as many as had been carried in previous years.

THE TARIFF.

By Clayton Rand.

It's odd how both major political parties have dodged the tariff issue, despite the fact that a prosperous and permanent agriculture is more involved in the tariff than in all other political platforms put together.

The tariff issue has become so ticklish that when a Congressman now even whispers the word in the capitol representatives of both parties sneak under their seats.

It's pretty tough to be having a political campaign all over the country and none of the patriotic spellbinders displaying their ignorance and wisdom on what was once the most popular bone the politicians picked.

About all one hears about now is "We given you this, and we given you that." Some of us old-timers would give a hickory, home-cured ham and a mess of turnip greens just to hear a rip-snorting old political debate on something or other that had meat in it.

DIVERSIFIED FARMING.

By V. M. Couch.

More skill is required and greater risk assumed when specializing in any particular crop. Specialty cropping should be located where that particular crop can be raised cheapest and best. Some try it out on its natural element. Some succeed against all odds of soil, climate and market, but they are taking chances and in a large majority of cases greater success would be made under more favorable circumstances. Nature specializes in a very general way, limiting certain plants to certain large localities. On the whole, every bit of land produces mixed crops when nature does the sowing. In many instances man tries to defy natural habitat of certain plants and becomes dissatisfied with the markets because he cannot compete with more favorable localities. He chose the wrong crop for the right place, or else chose the wrong place for the right crop. He should move or exchange crops.

The farmer to succeed must adopt the crops that will naturally succeed best on his particular soil in his particular climate, and diversify as much as possible, so as to be more sure of getting profitable returns every year. The writer is of the opinion that diversified or mixed farming is the best plan to follow in many sections of the country. He may succeed with wheat, cotton, corn or some other particular crop year after year, but the time comes when failure sits on his doorstep waiting to take possession of the place.

In my own experience crop rotation has given the best results in the long run. Live stock should be a part of practically every system of farming. And again, a choice of what the live stock shall be depends upon the crops and the soil. To undertake to raise sheep where sheep cannot do well, is as foolish as to try to raise wheat where it has never been a paying crop. Diversified stock raising goes well with diversified farming.

DROUGHT INCREASES FOREST FIRE DANGER.

Drought is adding to the danger of forest fires.

Reports to the U. S. Forest Service from timbered areas list these conditions: Montana and northern Idaho, serious. South Dakota and southern Colorado, dry. Arizona and New Mexico, hot, dry and hazardous. California, hazardous, especially in the southern part of the state. Alaska, hazards increasing. In the Central and Lake states, "high hazards" are reported in Missouri, Illinois, Indiana, Ohio and part of the Lower Peninsula of Michigan, with moderate danger in the Upper Peninsula and in Wisconsin and Minnesota. In the Southern states, high hazards exist over wide sections.

The Forest Service, emphasizing that each day of severe drought increases fire dangers, lists these precautions:

1. SMOKING: Smoke only while stopping in a safe place, clear of all inflammable material; never while traveling in the woods.

2. MATCHES: Be sure your match is out. Break it in two before you throw it away.

3. TOBACCO: Be sure that pipe ashes and cigar or cigarette stubs are dead before throwing them away. Never throw them into brush, leaves or needles.

4. MAKING CAMP: Before building a fire scrape away all inflammable material from a spot 5 feet in diameter. Dig a hole in the center and in it build your camp fire. Keep your fire small. Never build it against trees or logs or near brush.

5. BREAKING CAMP: Never break camp until your fire is out—dead out.

6. HOW TO PUT OUT A CAMP FIRE: Stir the coals while soaking them with water. Turn small sticks and drench both sides. Wet the ground around the fire. If you can't get water, stir in dirt and tread it down until packed tight over and around the fire. Be sure the last spark is dead.

7. BRUSH BURNING: Never burn slash or brush in windy weather or while there is the slightest danger that the fire will get away.

8. PUT OUT any small fires you can. Report all fires to the nearest station or ranger.

A man can't do it who says the snow is too deep, the wind too fierce, the rocks too high.—Dr. Russell J. Clinchy.

WHAT IS TRUE SUCCESS?

True success is not limited to success in money-making or getting in "Who's Who." In a sermon by Dr. Wm. W. Holland in The Progressive Farmer we find the following thoughtful comment on the elements of true success:—

"Whoever refuses to accept defeat, but keeps on, through thick and through thin, meeting each day with a smile, even though there may be little to smile at; the parents who strive, yet can't do for themselves or their children all that they desire; the good people who must temporarily accept relief; young men and young women who stand knocking at doors of opportunity that do not readily open, but who do not give up—these are all successful people. They will not fear though the earth be moved."

"Whoever, uncaring whether the world cheers or jeers, will not surrender his personal ideals nor trail his white plume of honor in the dust of animality has in him the heroic stuff out of which God's successes are fashioned. In the lowly, unnoticed stations of life, they who never allow their souls to go to sleep at the switch, however much they may seem to miss the outward goals of success, are setting the music of humanity's better march. They are successful; I salute them with honor."

FARM WOMEN BARTER TO GET HOME NEEDS.

Home industries of farm women not only bring them cash gains on products sold but yield a good return in exchange for services and commodities their families could not otherwise have had.

Women extension leaders attending the agricultural outlook conference in Washington told of many cases where satisfactory trades were made. Among the products marketed were dressed poultry, eggs, butter, pickles, preserves, tomato juice, canned chicken and meat, canned chili, bread, cakes, and hooked rugs.

These products also were accepted in payment for mental work, physicians' fees, drugs, music lessons, garage bills, shrubs, furniture, bed linens, a permanent, hair cuts, cosmetics, brooms, parts for an oil stove, a gasoline iron, house paint and paper, clothes closets, wire fencing, blacksmith work, subscriptions to magazines, dress materials, a suit of clothes, setting eggs, baby chicks, a contribution to the preacher, and, in one case, a Bible.

Reports from the Southern Pine Association show an increase in production during July of 11.4 per cent over the corresponding month last year, but a decrease of 2.4 per cent below that of the preceding month. Shipments were 3 per cent above a year ago, but 4.2 per cent below those of June; and average unfilled orders on July 31 were 7.7 per cent greater than on the corresponding month last year, but 5.7 per cent below those of June 30.

New Novel Chosen as Serial for This Newspaper.

"Honeymoon Mountain," the latest novel by Frances Shelley Wees, this paper's newest serial story, brought forth the following comment by the New York Times:

"A determined young lover will find a way, even if it is a very roundabout one. The author has hedged in her young lovers with more obstacles than there were in the rocky mountain roads round the home where pretty Deborah lived in the wilderness of Oregon. The clearing up of her problems makes an appealing romance with a pleasant mixture of the old-fashioned and the ultra modern."

There's a spring morning freshness to this story that carries you along with a thrilling sense of anticipation. Deborah's mother had made an unhappy marriage and her grandparents, to protect her from a like tragedy, feared her in the absolute seclusion of a mountain estate. At twenty-one, unsuspected and naive, she was to marry a handpicked suitor and then come into her fortune. When the prospective husband proved impossible, Bryn stepped in as a substitute, ostensibly for the $50,000 he was offered. The young man's gallant struggle to win his shy but proud young wife makes a tale you'll long remember.

Frances Shelley Wees is a native of Oregon, the locale of this serial. California and Alberta, Canada, have been her homes since childhood. She is descended, on the maternal side, from Canadians of English extraction. Her father's people are Americans, having begun their westward migration in Revolutionary times.

Though quite a newcomer in the literary world, her rise has been marked with success. Some of her popular novels are "The Mystery of the Creeping Man," "Romance Island," and "The Maestro Murders." Read her latest as unfolds serially in this paper.

This paper had another appreciated call yesterday from Rev. J. T.
Hörger. Rev. Hörger's friends will be happy to learn that he has sufficiently recovered from his recent illness to be able to again work, and he offers his services to the public as an expert sharpener of saws and all kinds of edged tools.

Clarence Mumme, the poultry man, was in town yesterday from his poultry farm. He informed the Anvil Herald man that he had a good season last spring with his baby chicks, but right now egg prices are so much higher relatively than chickens he finds it more profitable to sell eggs than to hatch them. He attributes this disparity between the price of eggs and live poultry to the high price of feed and the effort of poultry raisers to economize on feed bills by selling their flocks down to smaller numbers. He thinks after this rush of poultry to market and the turkey season is over there will be a strong demand for broilers, and plans to bring off a batch in time to catch that after New Year demand.

JEFFERSONIAN DEMOCRATS

Offer Proof of Anti-New Deal Charges

We recently made charges in this paper that Mr. Roosevelt and his administration were not Democrats, and had no claim to Democratic loyalty. We charged that continuation of his administration would undermine the economy of the nation, and threaten its institutions. We charged that he had opened the sluice-gates of the federal treasury, and, through Boss Farley, had Tammanized the nation.
We charged that he had surrounded himself with radicals, and had more nearly discharged their radical platforms than his own. WE ARE OF-FERING THE PROOF OF OUR CHARGES THROUGH OUR PA-PER, THE JEFFERSONIAN DEM-OCRAT.

We reassert that we are regular Democrats. We would prefer to vote the regular ticket. But we refuse to put party loyalty above our loyalty to America. In scratching Roosevelt we violate no party pledge, for the primary ballot contained a pledge to vote for the nominees OF THAT PRIMARY. Mr. Roosevelt's name was not on that ballot. Furthermore, the Texas law instructs the voter how to cast a mixed ballot, and the Supreme Court has upheld that right.

We ask all true Democrats to weigh the proof before voting for a continuation of government by irresponsible radicals. Unlike the New Deal we have no ready made organization to spread our propaganda and raise money for our campaign. We will appreciate your support and whatever donations you can make us.
Write us for copies of THE JEF-FERSONIAN DEMOCRAT, and help us distribute it throughout your county.

J. EVETTS HALEY, Chairman
Jeffersonian Democrats of Texas, Austin, Texas.

to $6.00 and above. Lot of 763 pound matured grass steers brought $5.50 to $6.25.

with packing sows around 25 cents

by both packers and small killers.

ferings sold readily at $9.25 to $9.50.

REHABILITATION LOANS NOW BEING MADE, BUT ON RE- STRICTED BASIS.

Rehabilitation loans for the new crop year are now being authorized by the Resettlement Administration, but lack of funds requires the number and amount to be more restricted than during the past year, it was announced recently by C. W. Price, Medina County Rural Rehabilitation Supervisor.

"Now borrowers in drought or flood areas will receive what we term emergency loans, for purchase of seed, feed and supplies for human subsistence," the Supervisor said.
"We are not authorized to make any new 'standard rehabilitation' loans, which are for purchase of teams and equipment, as well as supplies. We made such standard loans last winter to 151 farmers of this county, a large number of whom were thereby enabled to buy teams and equipment and to continue farming operations, or to resume operations. Where these previous borrowers now require supplementary loans, we are authorized to make them for the purchase of necessary supplies."

The Supervisor said that most of the previous borrowers will repay this fall the amount borrowed for "consumable" goods, such as food, clothing, seed and feed. They have up to five years in which to repay the amount advanced for "recoverable" goods, such as teams and tools.

Borrowers who have demonstrated that they cannot be rehabilitated will be dropped from the program. In passing judgment on these, due consideration will be given to obstacles encountered, such as adverse weather conditions, poor land, and sickness.
First consideration for supplementary loan and grants will be given to those whose past performance "has demonstrated thrift, initiative, a willingness to work, a cooperative attitude and a proper regard for their obligations."

 LOCAL AND PERSONAL.

There will be a 100-mile special match race held at the Hondo Fairgrounds Sunday, October 11th, at 3 P. M. There will be two V-8 Fords and two Chevrolet 6's for the long going. Some of the best drivers in Texas will be at the wheel of these cars. The two V-8's will be driven by Eddie Byers, the winner of the last Monterey Road Race, driving a 1936 V-8, and Fred Ruth, driving a 1932 V-8 Ford. Fred Ruth is one of the best drivers in this territory. The two Chevrolet will be driven by Earl Allen and Grady Sexton. Both of these cars are the fastest Chevrolets in the country, it is claimed, and both are 1930 models with 1935 motors.

It was again Judge A. M. Lamm's very great pleasure to be privileged to receive tax receipt No. 1 on October 1st in payment of his 1936 State, County and District taxes. It has been the custom of this old Confederate Veteran—the last of the clan in Hondo—to be the first taxpayer each recurring October 1st for many years. His tax receipts, bearing No. 1, would make an imposing display if placed on exhibition.

Mrs. J. M. Eicholtz, remembered as Miss Emma Britsch who was for several years a clerk in the County Clerk's office here but since her marriage a resident of San Antonio, was here Saturday looking after her farming interests in this section. She is recuperating from injuries received several months ago when her car overturned near Dunlay.

John Buss underwent a successful but extremely painful operation in San Antonio last week for removal of a cataract from his right eye. Mr. Buss says the surgeons were doubtful about his retaining his vision in that eye but he thinks from the progress he is making towards recovery he will still have much use out of the member.

Earnest Scheidemantel, youngest son of the late Charles Scheidemantel for years a familiar figure about the courthouse in Hondo, came in last Sunday from the gold gulches of the California mountains. After a few days' stay here, he went on to San Antonio where he has a sister, Mrs. Fay Watters, residing.

TEXAS LAW CLEAR ON SPLIT BALLOT.
Courts Hold Pledge is not Binding as to National Candidates.
 Austin, Texas, Oct. 8, 1936—The Democratic primary pledge is binding only as to nominees who have participated in the primary and not as to national candidates, it has been pointed out here by a group of prominent Texas lawyers who are identified with Jeffersonian Democrats. Among the lawyers concurring in this opinion are W. P. Hamblen of Houston, J. D. Wheeler and Elmer Ware Stahl of San Antonio, H. C. Hughes of Galveston.

The lawyers went a step further and cited Article 2981 of the Revised Civil Statutes of Texas which clearly defines the method of voting a split ticket in a general election.

"Voters participating in the Democratic Primaries," the lawyers said in their written opinion, "are not even morally bound to support the Democratic national nominee. The pledge on the ballot says, 'I am a Democrat and pledge myself to support the nominees of this primary.' As electors for the national election were not voted on at the Democratic primary, but will be voted on in the General Election, November 3, they are not nominees of the Democratic primary and voters can split their tickets in the general election without even a qualm of conscience as to breaking a pledge."

RHYTHM.
 Deep lines of shadow cross the furrowed field.
 The idle ploughshare marks the labor's end;
 Farmer and team plod homeward. Birds descend
 To search for what the fresh turned earth may yield.
 How sweet the rhythm of toil and rest—the day Fading in tranquil beauty when the night Approaches gently and withdraws the light—Dawnrise and darkness, life upon its way.
 Oh, let this daily rhythm be enough;
 Search not beyond the twilight peace to find An answer for the rude, insatiable mind
 That ever probes for reasons for the rough, Harsh truths of life. Through toil and rest, the soul Must go unquestioning toward its unknown goal.

Long distance rates reduced 7 TIMES in 10 years

1926 OCTOBER 1— Rates reduced on calls over 150 miles.	1927 DECEMBER 1— Rates reduced on all calls over 378 miles.	1929 FEBRUARY 1— Rates reduced on calls between 130 and 1490 miles.
1930 JANUARY 1— Rates reduced on calls between 56 and 318 miles.	1935 JUNE 1—Reduced night rates moved forward from 8:30 p. m. to 7:00 p. m.	1936 JANUARY 15— Reductions on Sunday calls, and person-to-person calls after 7 p. m.

And now...
SEPTEMBER 1, 1936: Reduced rates on calls over 234 miles and reduced person-to-person overtime rates after 3 minutes of overtime.

In 1926, a person-to-person long distance telephone call between New York and San Francisco cost $20.60 at any hour. Six minutes were required to make the connection.

Today—1936—the same call may be made for only $6.75 at night, or any time on Sunday. You are connected in less than a minute and a half, on the average.

This wide difference between the long distance rates of yesterday and today is the result of seven voluntary reductions made in the past ten years.

It illustrates a Bell System policy in action—the policy of voluntarily reducing rates when it can be done.

HONDO DEFEATS BASTROP 6-0.

The Hondo Owls defeated the Bastrop Bears at Bastrop Friday night by a score of 6-0.

The first quarter consisted mostly of several exchanges of punts. Although nothing of great importance happened in this quarter the Owls kept the ball in Bastrop's territory during the greater part of this quarter.

The Owls made their advance scoring threat early in the second quarter when they advanced the ball to the Bears' three-yard line. The Bastrop line held, however, and punted out of danger on the first down after getting the ball. After this punt, the Owls again carried the ball down the field, only to be held for downs after advancing the ball to within a few yards of the Bastrop goal line. The quarter ended with the ball in the Owls' possession deep in Bastrop territory.

Score: Hondo 0, Bastrop 0.

The third quarter was very similar to the two which preceded it, because the Owls held the ball in Bastrop's territory during the entire quarter. Although the Owls advanced near the goal line several times, they failed to push the ball across for a touchdown.

The only real fireworks of the entire game came in the final quarter. The Owls started off in a big way, carrying the ball from mid-field to within a yard or two of the Bastrop goal line by means of passes which were accurately tossed by Walter Nester, who is rapidly becoming one of Hondo's best backfield men. However, the Bastrop line again held, and Hondo could gain nothing by line drives. The Owls then resorted to an aerial attack, and a pass from Nester to Windrow was completed for the touchdown. With only three minutes of play remaining, Hondo kicked off and stopped the Bears on their own thirty yard line. The Bears failed to gain and were forced to punt. The Owls had the ball in Bastrop territory when the game ended.

Final score: Hondo 6, Bastrop 0.

The May Day Basket Quilt

Just imagine 30 baskets, each one different in design, each one filled with gay blossoms, all embroidered upon a single quilt. If you would keep the beauties of springtime ever with you, do make a flower basket quilt. And here's a suggestion, a single basket would make a lovely pillow, or you can't imagine how lovely these blocks are when embroidered and framed. They make lovely gifts.

The quilt illustrated above consists of 30 blocks, 9x9 inches, finished with the Petal Border. You can now stamp your own material with the Multirap Transfer patterns. There are four designs on a sheet, and it would take 8 sheets to make the complete set as shown above. The Multirap patterns are 10c per sheet. Order M. P. No. 10, or all eight sheets for 50c. Order M. P. S. 50. The cutting guide for the Petal Border and quilting design for the plain blocks is 10c. Order No. 801.

Send order, stating patterns wanted, and coin to Fletcher's Farming, Needleart Department, 609 South Paulina Street, Chicago, Illinois.

H. E. CLUB MEETING.

The H. E. Club held its first regular meeting Thursday, September 17th.

This being the first meeting there was no program prepared so the business meeting followed immediately. The regular meeting day was set, which is to be every other Thursday. Meetings will be held if there are only two people who can attend the meeting. The Club voted to withdraw from the Winter Garden District and join the Uvalde District. The Hondo Club has accepted an invitation to be present at the district meeting to be held in Uvalde on October 17. The girls are hoping to get to make use of the new bus for the trip.

The old members of the club decided to hold an initiation for the freshmen who desire to become members. It will be held Thursday night. Further details will be given in the form of invitations to all girls taking Home Economics who are not already members of the club.

Wanda Dawson, former reporter, having moved to San Antonio to attend school, made it necessary to elect a new reporter. Florene Williams was elected to fill this position.

The girls expect to really do business this year, and with a little cooperation, they will.

GIFT OF THE WOOD.

Wearied of doing well, the feet of men
Return to walk the quiet roads again.

Moccasins dip their flags of faded red
In secret woods upon the mountain head.

The cardinal, a scarlet arrow, stirs
The darker solitude of shaggy firs.

So, rich with these, with part of forest calm,
As if a gift had touched the offered palm,

Strong men come back to walk the ways of men,
And work becomes a golden word again.

NEW RECORD SYSTEM INSTALLED.

A new permanent record system, THE AYER ARTICULATED CHILD ACCOUNTING SERIES, has been installed in the Hondo Public School. This system "provides a complete, up-to-date, yet simple and economical, record of all essential data relating to the status and progress of school children". Aside from the usual information regarding age, birthdate, parents' names, and the pupil's scholastic grades, the new records provide space for the following: Educational Tests, Record of Physical Defects, Medical Record, Immunization Record, Record of Special Activities, and Employment Record.

By starting this information about a child in the first grade, a cumulative record may be established which will prove of great value to the pupil's teachers throughout his school days. Already many items of interest and many facts which give the instructors better understanding of the home conditions, have been learned. From time to time, THE OWL will carry facts gleaned from the records that may be of interest to the student body as a whole. Watch for the heading, "From the Records".

SCHOOL BUS ARRIVES.

Every week we have had a notice in THE OWL saying something about the school bus which was coming, coming! Well, it's here and every student, teacher, and everyone else is thrilled about it. It fulfills all of our expectations. It is a very large one, and the predominating color is blue with a silver stripe around it, on which is written in large letters, Hondo High School. The football team had the privilege of getting to make the first trip in this excellent bus, although the Pep Squad went riding in it last week and serenaded the people of this town, showing them that the old school spirit is still alive and always growing among the students of old Hondo High. Although many comments were passed upon the bus, they all were of the same nature, that it is one of the nicest busses they have ever seen.

FOURTH GRADE.

We have covered the backs of our crumpled with heavy green paper. They are much more attractive. Frances Martin, Roland Eckhart and Ben Graff went to see the circus in San Antonio Friday. "Mr. Merchant, the newspaper from the larger cities near your community are coming into the homes of your own customers these days with advertising columns bursting with announcements of real values.

"They are drawing the dollars out of the pockets of the people who should be purchasing from you.

"These city merchants know that advertisements in their city newspaper will bring results or they wouldn't be spending good, hard-earned money for that advertising.

"Your own values are just as outstanding—and even more so—than the values being offered your customers by the city merchants.

"If you are to get the dollars that are rightfully yours, you will have to inform your customers of this fact in big, bold headlines in your home town newspaper, and then back up your headlines up with the price tags on your merchandise.

"If you will go to your home town newspaper advertising man he will help you with your advertising problems and make your advertising just as appealing to your customers as the 'big city' advertising is.

"Local advertising has the jump on advertising that comes in from the outside, but you, Mr. Merchant, have to keep that lead by properly utilizing the home town newspaper columns consistently and with careful attention to the preparing of copy.

on class or punitive taxation of chain stores. From hundreds of replies, very few favored class or punitive taxation of chain stores, while an overwhelming majority was absolutely opposed to such method of taxation. This position was taken entirely separate and apart from whether the editor was favorable or unfavorable to the chain store method of merchandising. It was based on the editors outspoken conviction that class or special taxation was unsound and unAmerican, and once saddled on any branch of business or industry was bound to be extended by the businessmen to other lines of business.

The rural press of America has its feet on the ground, it is more interested in policies which are for the common good than in hysterical proposals aimed at any industry as an expedient measure that has temporary or popular political appeal.

Our nation can feel more secure with a rural press that is individually independent and that does its own thinking on questions in which the welfare of our people and the foundation principle of our government are at stake.—Industrial News Review.

VIRGINIA WISDOM.

Among all arraignments of the Hull tariff treaties—that have opened the gates to farm products of Canada and other nations in competition to our own farmers—none have been more severe in criticism than Senator Carter Glass, the old Democratic warhorse of Virginia, who is unopposed in his party for re-election. "When the Democratic party in convention assembled declared against high tariff and promised to abolish or modify it," observed the Senator, "it did not mean that we would institute another system that would rob 56,000,000 people out of both pockets at the same time." That ought to give farmers something to think about, because it is the statement of what the South might call the "honestest, fearliest," and smartest of modern statesmen.

While recording Senator Glass's views it is interesting to know that he says that a depreciation of 10 per cent in Government bonds would be likely to "render insolvent 90 per cent of the banks of the country." His reasons for this belief are based on his knowledge of monetary polileft for San Antonio, where the groom is employed with the S. M. T.

Lines, and where they will make their home.

D'HANIS HIGH SCHOOL BOYS IN FIRST FOOTBALL GAME.

The initial game of the current football season played by the D'Hanis Cowboys, and, incidentally, the first football game played by any D'Hanis team, took place at Sabinal Wednesday afternoon when the Horseflies, junior squad of that town, defeated Coach White's beginners, 13-0. Neither side scored during the second half of the game.

Next Wednesday the Horseflies will come to D'Hanis for a return game.

The local eleven, which is also of junior classification, consists of the following players: Ferd Rock, Nuel Highsmith, James Love, John Barber, Leo, Albert and Joe Britz, Orson Secrist, Leroy Reitzer, Thomas Victor Boog, Sam Bedell and James Wolff.

cies and banking. It must be remembered that he was Secretary of the Treasury under Woodrow Wilson.
The reason why Mr. Glass is particularly disturbed is because 60 per cent of the deposits of a great many banks have been loaned to the Government.—National Industrial News

THE COTTON FARMER'S RAW DEAL.

President Roosevelt's action in raising the tariff on cotton cloth 42 per cent may easily have disastrous consequences to the Southern cotton grower. The action is aimed at the Japanese who have increased their exportation of cotton cloth to this country.

Japan is the Southern cotton farmer's best foreign customer, taking more raw cotton from the United States than any other country. Not only is this true, but in the aggregate Japan buys much more from the United States than she sells to this country. The balance of trade is definitely in our favor.

Information is to the effect that the Japanese Cotton Spinners' Association has agreed to buy its cotton in the future so far as practicable from countries other than the United States. This is the natural reaction one would expect from such an action on our part. It is poor business to anger a good customer. It is even more foolish to throw away a market in raw cotton worth $80,000,000 in order to keep out of the country only about $2,000,000 worth of cotton goods. While Secretary Hull burns the midnight oil seeking new customers through trade treaties, the President in this case used the tariff axe on the best customer we have for our most important export commodity.

This action emphasizes the justification for agricultural subsidies.
So long as it is the policy of the government (1) to raise the price of cotton cloth to farmers by tariff increases and (2) by the same action to restrict the cotton farmer's market by dealing unfairly with his best foreign customer, just so long will large federal subsidies to cotton farmers be imperative.—Eugene Butler, in Progressive Farmer.

It is regrettable that our friend Butler should spoil such a wholesome statement of facts and such sound logic by coming to an entirely erroneous conclusion.

Two wrongs never make a right.
Obviously, if the tariff were not wrong it would not bring about the evil effects to offset which requires the evil practice of subsidizing the victims.

"IN PERSON"

ST. JOHN'S PAROCHIAL SCHOOL NOTES.

St. John's School has been open just one month this week. We are getting used to school work again.
How hard it was for us to get back to lessons again. Our teachers, we are sure, would be able to inform you of the hard time they had to get us to work. Now that we are at work we think we are doing very well. The largest class in our classroom this semester is the Seventh Grade. This class thinks they are more progressive this year but the teachers think differently. I think the Fifth Grade are the best students so far. You will be able to see by the Honor Roll below who is who.

CLUB OFFICERS THIS SEMESTER

Charles V. Richter was elected to the office of presidency. Dorothy V.
Renken was elected as secretary to the president and Bernice Brucks has been elected as treasurer. A good choice has been made from among the pupils and we feel that we have voted intelligently.

CLUB ACTIVITIES.

Our little "Star Club" had one social since school reopened. We are very proud of the success it made and the teachers and chief officers of the club extend their sincere thanks to the following ladies for their generous help: Mrs. Charles Finger, Mrs. P. H. Renken, Mrs. E.
H. Ney, Mrs. Zerr, Mrs. Brucks, Mrs.
John Finger, Mrs. Hermes and Mrs.
Bader.

LITTLE ANGELS CLUB.

Little Angels Club is doing very well this year. They have a new teacher of whom they are very proud. Her name is Sister M. Declan. Little Beatrice Mary Zerr was voted for by the "Little Angels" to be their president. This week Beatrice will have a little social. She will appoint certain members to do something for this social. Don't you think that it is nice to have little active angels in school like we have?
Next month we will tell you more about Beatrice and her little club.

A REPORT FROM THE FIFTH GRADE.

By Dorothy Ney.
Well, here we are again and in

To subsidize the victims of the tariff is to find a victim to be mulet-ted for the subsidy.

This would call for finding another victim to relieve the victims.

And so on until the circle would be complete and there would be none to benefit because all benefits would be muletted from the beneficiaries to relieve the victims.

The right way is the only way.

The right way is, in this instance, the short cut way.

Eliminate the tariff and be done with its whole brood of evils—the inevitable offspring of adherence to a wrong principle—the granting of special privilege to a favored class.

Eliminate the one wrong and cure its evil effects.

Don't try to make things right by adding a second wrong to the first.

When the courage to differ with those in places of power when they are wrong is looked upon as a worse crime than to be a crook and a grafter, it is small wonder real statesmen are so few and time-servers and demagogues so many!

Stimulation of liver bile flow is not enough for complete relief, but combined with intestinal stimulation that relieves temporary constipation, quick, soothing results are certhe Fifth Grade. We are very glad to be back again. We have the same good teacher again this year. Her name is Sister Mary Matthew. Well, now to get down to the Fifth Grade.

This is the smallest class in the school. There are five in this class.
O well, I suppose that's all it's supposed to be. If not, there would be more.

Well, now I'll say something about our club. We have just as good a club as we had last year. Some of our good workers are gone, but we expect the new Fourth Grade to take their place, and I'm sure they can do it. The officers we elected are just as good as the ones last year: Charles V. Richter, president; Dorothy V. Renken, secretary, and Bernice Brucks, treasurer. This year we are going to buy shades, a dictionary stand, and a table globe for the little ones. Well, I think that is all we have done just yet, so I will stop.

SIXTH GRADE NEWS.

By Maurice Zerr.
We have six pupils in the Sixth Grade this year: Henry Martin Finger, Lloyd Huesser, Lloyd Hermes, G. H. Finger, Gertrude Koch and Maurice Zerr. There is just one girl in the whole class. We finished our first monthly exams last Wednesday.
We all think we made pretty good grades. The subjects we have this year are: Arithmetic, Spelling, Geography, Reading, Poetry, Grammar, English, Physiology, Civics and History. If we miss any of these subjects we are punished by having a "Dunce's Cap" placed on our head, and of course none of us care to be made fun of. We have the same teacher we had last term, Sister Matthew. We were all glad to have her back as we like her very much.

SEVENTH GRADE NEWS.

By Theresa Ziegenbals.
The 7th Grade is doing very well in school. There are eleven in this grade which is the largest class. Bernice Brucks is the live wire of the grade. Alice Graff takes great pride in keeping the school clean. We have a new pupil who is also doing well in school. We are very proud to have Sister Matthew as our teacher. We hope this class will do good through the school term.

On account of the great Church Convention at San Antonio, we will drop our Sunday School and Church service and join the services of the Lutheran Churches there.

In the afternoon at 2:30 there will be a great Lutheran Rally at the Municipal Auditorium. The Seguin Choir and College band will beautify the service. By all means try to be present.

Sunday, Oct. 18, Sunday School as usual. But the Church service will be omitted on account of the pastor's absence.

K. KONZACK, Pastor.

Messrs. Wilfred W. Wernette, A.
E. Halbardier, Alber Hoog, Joe Naegelin and Leslie Howard were at Hondo Sunday for the races.

in San Antonio last Saturday.

Melvin James, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Tschirhart, was baptized in the St. Louis Church.
Sponsors were Miss Laura Mae Schott and Marion Tschirhart.

Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Oerter of the Alamo City spent Sunday at the Rio Vista.

Mrs. August Mechler is spending the present week with her children in San Antonio.

Mrs. Herman Bippert returned home Sunday, after having spent several days the past week at the Cen-

A strong norther, accompanied by one inch of rain, struck here Tuesday night. This rain thoroughly soaked the ground which had become dry, and will enable farmers to start sowing oats.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Purrell and daughter, Miss Cornelia, were San Antonio visitors Tuesday.

Albert Schneider and Joe Sittre of the French Settlement were LaCoste visitors Friday.

A large force of county hands, under the supervision of Com. Bippert, left Monday for River Side Inn to put the finishing touches on the low water bridge recently erected. The approaches to the bridge were finished the day preceding the recent rise and the concrete work not being dry when the water reached it, the approaches were swept Gulf-ward, causing several hundred dollars damage.

Norval Mangold, who was employed in Dan Burrell's Beer Parlor, resigned Monday.

Mrs. Ben Haby and son, Harry, of Dunlay were Castroville visitors Sunday.

Walter Wurzbach, son of Mr. and Mrs. Hugo Wurzbach of Riohondo, and Miss Irene Bendele, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Bendele of Castroville, were married in San Antonio last week. After a brief honeymoon will be at home to their friends in Riohondo, where the groom is engaged in farming.

John I. Briscoe, formerly of vine but now from San Antonio, was a Castroville visitor Sunday.

Frank Groff and family moved to the John Hans residence last week. Mr. Groff's residence at the side was destroyed by fire in and he recently purchased the Hans place, also on the east side.

HIGH WINDS BLOW TODAY

The high winds blow today and their call

I have become as some strange thing;

For in my breast there is a gust Like wind-whipped waves beat sudden squall.

Electrified and still I stand
As if I stiffen as if listening wing

Would bear me far above my wall.

With face uplifted to the stand

And yield my body to its strong brace,

Akin, at last, with all the birds fly.

Although my feet are still upon land,

And mortal flesh is still upon face,

I have become a goddess of the
